

It helps the folding process if you score the paper lightly along the dotted lines before folding. Scoring just means running an exacto-knife (or razor blade) very very lightly along the lines so that the top fibers of the paper are lightly dented or cut. This makes the folding more accurate and reduces the chances of the paper fibers tearing on the fold.

Dotted Lines
are fold lines.

